The democratic convention was called to order at nine o'clock yesterday morning as per adjournment on Wednesday evening. The conference committee was again sent to meet the committee of Progressive Republicans. Upon receiving a list of the candidates before the convention from the Democratic committee, the Progressive committee made a written proposition to accept the balance of the democratic ticket provided good men were nominated, designating their preference in several instances, and that the progressives be given three offices, naming Lorenzo Zamora as commissioner for the first district, Julius Meyer as sheriff and Angus McGilivray as treasurer. The democrats refused to be dictated to, as they put it, and were about to throw the whole attempt at fusion to the winds.

Mr. Van Stone as chairman of the progressives asked permission to address the convention and to withdraw the proposition. He asked in lieu thereof that the progressives be given the three places on the ticket, and trusted to the sense of fair play of the democrats to nominate a ticket that the progressives could support. This suggestion was adopted by the convention by a vote of 43 to 9.

Upon re-convening after dinner, the nomination of candidates was taken up. A. J. Green of Estancia and J. M. Smith of Moriarty were placed in nomination, Green being nominated by a vote of 33 to 20.

For clerk J. J. White of Moun-tainair received 27 votes and E. W. Roberson of McNiosh 26 votes, the former being declared the nominee.

For judge Jose de Jesus Romero of Punta, M. F. Baker of Torreon and J. L. Lobb of Jaramillo precinct were named. The first ballot resulted, Romero 16, Baker 20 and Lobb 17. No provision was made in the rules in case neither candidate received a majority of the votes cast. A motion prevailed that after the next ballot, the candidate receiving the least number of votes should be dropped. The second ballot on the three names resulted Romero 21, Lobb 18 and Baker 14 votes, the latter being then dropped. The next ballot showed Romero 26 votes and Lobb 27, Lobb being declared the nominee.

The office of sheriff had been by motion given the progressives but the idea of fair play as displayed by a few of the democrats was here shown. Julius Meyer was nominated as was also C. R. Greenfield of Moriarty. The vote showed Meyer had won by 37 to 16 votes. Chairman Wasson named a committee and demanded that Meyer be brought in and pay allegiance to the democratic platform and principles. Exceptions were taken to this, but the chairman stood pat. The committee was named, but refused to leave the room and lose their part in the nominations.

For treasurer Angus McGilivray was named. Mr. Jennings of Willard secured the floor and demanded that the convention stand for fair play with the progressives, after having promised these three places and a motion prevailed that McGilivray be named by acclamation. The chair again appointed a committee to hunt up Mr. McGilivray in order that he might tell the democrats how thankful he was for the honor. C. R. Easley secured recognition from the chair and showed how the chair was attempting to usurp the authority of the convention in sending for these nominees, as the convention had not asked for it. The chair withdrew its commands.

For county commissioner of the first district Lorenzo Zamora the candidate of the progressives was named without opposition.

In the second district B. F. Hulen of Willard was named as also Juan Cruz Sanchez of Manzano, the vote resulting 32 for Hulen and 20 for Sanchez.

Anyone needing corn, wheat, rye, oats or any kind of feed stuff, can find plenty in this neighborhood, as the farmers have more than they can use. If outsiders could but take a peep at the stuff we have grown, they would wonder where it had all come from.

The Voter's Lament

The following from a New Mexico exchange, pictures the plight of the man who hearkens to the glittering promises of the gang: "The politician is my shepherd; I shall not want for any good thing during the campaign. He leadeth me in to the saloon for my vote's sake; he filleth my pocket with good cigars; my glass of beer runneth over. He prepareth my ticket for me in the face of my better judgment. Yea, though I walk through the mud and rain to vote for him, and shout myself hoarse when he is elected, forthwith he forgetteth me; even when I meet him in his own office, he know me not. Surely the wool has been pulled over my eyes all the days of my life, and the politician hath hoodwinked and deceived me."

Emmet Williams left last night for Alpine, Texas, where he has charge of a Saddlery.

Mr. Republican Voter, if we turn our state government over to the gangsters of our party headed by Mr. Bursum they will make such a record as will put the Republican party down and out for a generation. Better throw out the gang leaders now that we may win in the future. — Roswell Record.

Any Republican who votes the Republican state ticket in the coming election thinking that in so doing he is doing his duty as a Republican, will be mistaken. When he votes for the nominees of the Las Vegas convention he endorses gang rule, gag rule and corrupt politics generally. By scratching the state ticket he will register a protest against these things. — Roswell Record.

The recent action of the Republican state central committee of New Mexico in recognizing the Hubbell faction in Bernalillo county should be conclusive proof to the people of New Mexico that the old gang are to make a determined stand to control the affairs of the new state. It is now down to a fight with the Democrats and Progressive Republicans on the one side and the old plundering gang of Republicans on the other assisted by that peerless "martyr" and former Democrat, Octaviano Antonio Larrazolo. It now becomes necessary that the people see to it that the Bursum-Hubbell gang do not secure control of our first state government. — Springer Stockman.

Aviation Costly.

A writer in the London Graphic figures out that it costs about $5,000 before the ordinary individual can attempt to fly, this sum including not only the aeroplane itself, but a shelter for the flying machine, tools needed for the countless repairs, etc. He asserts, also, that every return to earth is marked by the necessity of $10 worth of repair and readjustment. No wonder that flying is not a popular amusement.
